Morrison Enhances Dining Experience at Lions Gate

Fresh salmon served grilled, baked or poached in a court bouillon; portobello mushroom, fresh jersey tomato and sliced avocado grilled to perfection and served on an onion ciabatta with dipping sauce; seasonal berries with a slice of lemon bar...These are just some of the menu items residents enjoy now that Morrison Foods has joined Lions Gate.

"Everything we do – from preparing dishes with the freshest seasonal ingredients, to creating healthy taste memories while preserving the cherished values and traditions – is tied to enriching the lives of seniors every day,"

– Morrison Division Vice President Dan Fedro.

Morrison's food program, including homemade food preparation, improved hospitality and incorporating better ways to meet the needs of residents, integrates a strong focus on wellness. "We engage, educate and empower residents to enhance their spiritual, cultural and social well being, and we tie that into food," says Dan.

Morrison also plans some fun interaction with residents. For example, they will coordinate with the activities department to present educational events. One of these events might teach residents about the nutritional value of certain grains and then feature those particular grains in a menu item that day. At other times, guest chefs from Food Network or famous local restaurants will prepare delicious menu items for residents. There will be rotating omelet and carving stations throughout the facility. Dan adds, "To show that we are honored to be in their home, we also want to work with some residents to make their favorite family recipes."

Morrison Senior Living, a member of Compass Group®, is the nation's only company exclusively dedicated to providing food, nutrition and hospitality services to the senior living industry.

Check Out the Sweet Life at Lions Gate!

The lifestyle at Lions Gate is extraordinary. There is always so much to do...from off-site trips to Philadelphia theaters and museums; to fabulous on-site events including rousing musical and theatrical performances; to interesting classes through Lions Gate University; book, gardening and drama clubs; water aerobics and other fitness classes; as well as lively games of bridge, canasta and mahjong; and so much more!

Below: An Evening of Baseball Lore

Most recently, Lions Gate held "An Evening of Baseball Lore" through Lions Gate University and Saltzman Foundation Lifelong Learning Institute. This evening included the Garden State Film Festival Babe Ruth Story,

"I'll Knock a Homer for You," a Q&A with the film's producer/director and lots of popcorn, peanuts and other baseball fare. Residents have also enjoyed a happy hour beach party and luau, complete with steel drum players and Polynesian dancers. Additionally, in celebration of residents Tillie and Irwin Spetgang's birthdays, their daughter brought in her good friend, international cabaret singer Frans Bloem to perform a musical tribute for them.

THE REHABILITATION C Successful Results fo

You can't argue with the facts...

The Rehabilitation Center at Lions Gate, which is open to the public, reports continued patient satisfaction, as well as a reduction in hospital readmissions. The average length of stay nationally is 29 days; at Lions Gate, it is only 18. Also, Lions Gate hospital readmissions are, on average, only one in nine, while nationally they are nearly one in five!

AND you can't argue with glowing patient testimonials, like this one, "My father was wheelchair bound, using oxygen and was unable to swallow.

Therapies he received while at Lions Gate gave him the ability to eat once again; restored his capability to dress, bath and feed himself; regained his strength and endurance; and he is now able to walk on his own."

meals served in well-appointed dining rooms on each floor; private rooms with large flat screen tvs and private bathrooms and a state-of-the-art gym with a wall of windows for warm natural lighting. Aquatic therapy is also available in our indoor, heated pool.

Lions Gate works with Fox Rehabilitation to provide one-on-one physical, occupational and speech therapies to meet the individual needs of each patient.

"Our therapy team at Lions Gate raises the bar on quality of care with highly trained therapists who practice with the most up to date treatment strategies and develop a relationship with patients. Due to our exceptional care, we produce better outcomes in Activities of Daily Living and mobility than the national average, returning patients to their home safely and at the highest level of independence," says Director of Rehabilitation Pete Antinore, OTR/L.

HAPPY NEW RESIDENTS...

Susan Graham is very pleased that she moved into one of Lions Gate's newly upgraded apartment for so many reasons....She likes that she was able to choose the new color scheme that matches her furniture and art, and she says the new stainless steel appliances and new carpeting are very nice.

Mrs. Graham also enjoys the entertainment at Lions Gate, swimming in the indoor pool, exercise classes, taking walks on the beautifully landscaped walking paths and sitting on her patio. She says the people at Lions Gate are very friendly and she feels very safe here. "I know I made the right decision to move to Lions Gate because I truly enjoy it and I feel at home here."

"I like my new apartment very much, and Lions Gate has so much to offer. I'm so glad I made the decision to move here," said Lions Gate Resident Susan Graham.

Dr. Daniel Belsky and his wife Ann say that Lions Gate was extremely instrumental in helping them make a smooth move from their Florida home.

"Everyone in administration was extremely responsive. Our apartment was ready for us. All we had to do was move in and Lions Gate also helped us work with our movers. We stayed in the guest suite until our furniture arrived. They made us feel welcome, as did the people who live here. In fact, we've only been here two weeks and we've already had dinner with wonderful people half a dozen times!" The doctor and his wife plan to engage in all the terrific activities and entertainment Lions Gate offers. They also are enjoying peace of mind now knowing that they have access to healthcare should they need it.

Lions Gate Welcomes Highly Credentialed Executive Chef Robert Rifkin
